Point Blank: Nothing to Declare; Operation Wonderland; Roses and Morphine (Intellect Books - Playtext) Liz Tomlin

This definitive publication of Point Blank's early work is essential reading for students, audiences, actors and directors interested in radical new writing for performance. Comprehensive notes are provided to enable a range of potential re-stagings of the texts, and the critical essays offer readers new interpretations of the interplay between contemporary performance practice and the prevailing political climate.

Nothing to Declare asks you to imagine Laurence Llewelyn-Bowen on safari in Beirut as it follows the trail of an obsessive wannabe design guru travelling through a middle-eastern war zone looking for inspiration.

Operation Wonderland (shortlisted for a Critics Circle Award 2004) features an unlikely suicide bomber seeking to live out his fantasies and put a grim end to the magic of the Disneyesque theme park

'Wonderland', while Roses and Morphine sees the memories of war atrocities transformed into corrupted fairy tales in the archive of a mythical library.
