Carta Marina: A Poem in Three Parts Ann Fisher-Wirth

A vivid, strange, and beautiful account of a year in Sweden, this poem represents the ways in which wildness and monstrosity, dream and terror, coexist forever with constructions of order. Inspired by a medieval map of the same name, the poem weaves the gloom of the author's forgotten past with the pain and pleasures of her present life, creating a treatise on motherhood, marriage, love, forgiveness, reconnection, and abandonment.
